

Election Insight #2

More Things to Think About

Here are more things to think about with regards to the election campaigning.

Some candidates think they can get re-elected by spending their way into office. Spending money by hiring a Climate Change Officer and advocating for a Transit Master Plan are their ways of campaigning. Read more about it this week in the items below.

It is time to look to candidates that offer real solutions to real problems and not just try to spend their way to solutions that never seem to work.

Something to think about!

Vote wisely!

CLIMATE CONVER- SATIONS

This is a contentious issue, and we are not here to debate the issue. We want to provide you with some information to think about and let you decide.

Mayor Henderson is proposing hiring a Climate Change Officer. Why?

Town staff and the Sustainability and Climate Emergency Advisory Committee have shown that they are already very capable in advising and implementing actions to reduce the effects of climate change. Let them continue doing their work.

Ask candidates if they support hiring a Climate Action Officer. Read more about it here...

Transit Seems Not to be Going in the Right Direction

We seem to never get it right when it comes to transit. We keep throwing money at transit hoping that this will solve the problem. It doesn't. It is no surprise that some candidates as part of their election platform are talking about a transit master plan. This means another large expenditure for a consultant report that will be received for information purposes and gather dust.
